NOTES IN SEASON.

A. C. McCLURG & Co. have just ready an American edition of John Reeves' work on "The Rothschilds—the financial rulers of nations."

D. LOTHROP Co. will issue shortly that popular ballad, "Curfew must not ring to-night," and many others of Mrs. Rose Hartwick Thorpe's, including "Remember the Alamo," that stirring story of the struggle for Texan liberty, in a handsome volume.

LEE & SHEPARD will issue at once a volume entitled "Life Notes; or, Fifty Years' Outlook," by Rev. William Hague, D.D., widely known throughout this country, but especially identified with Boston—where he was the pastor, at different times, of five leading churches—Providence, R. I., New York State, and Washington, D. C., as an eloquent and scholarly Baptist clergyman, and orator. Dr. Hague's work will be filled with rare reminiscences, embracing an important period in our country's religious and philanthropic history.

CASSELL & COMPANY have nearly ready "The Housekeeper's Handy Book." This is a "handy book," as it implies, and it has been alphabetically arranged so that it is really its own index. There are few things that a housekeeper or a mother wants to know, about which she will not get some practical hints in this little volume. Not only are there receipts for making the most needed dishes at the least cost, but there are receipts for taking care of and renovating clothing, carpets, for papering walls, raising plants, etc. There are questions of etiquette answered, and a list of the precious stones of every month in the year, useful to persons when selecting birthday presents, the language of flowers, a list of Christian names with their meanings, and hundreds of other bits of useful information.

BENJAMIN & BELL make their début as publishers by issuing a literary curiosity, a satire, entitled "The Poets and Poetry of America." It is a neat pamphlet, and contains matter that was first published in 1847 in Philadelphia by Wm. S. Young, who did business at 173 Race Street. The editor, who conceals his identity under the name of Geoffrey Quarles, has written an ingenious introductory argument to prove that the author who originally signed himself "Levante" was Edgar Allan Poe. They announce for immediate publication a volume of "Society Verse by American Writers," selected by Ernest De Lancey Pierson, which will include about eighty poems, some by such well-known authors as Bunner, Aldrich, Helen Gray Cone, and others, and some by contributors who will appear for the first time in this volume. The book will be daintily printed by the De Vinne Press. Another interesting announcement they make is a novel by Edgar Saltus, to be entitled, "Mr. Incoul's Misadventure." The author has made quite an enviable reputation by his studies of pessimism—"The Anatomy of Negation" and "The Philosophy of Disenchantment"—as well as by his study of "Balzac," etc. His forthcoming work is said to be written in a pessimistic vein and to be exceedingly clever. A new volume by Appleton Morgan is to be issued by this firm under the title of "Shakespeare in Fact and Fiction." And, finally, they announce that they have secured the American market for the fourth edition of "The Book-Lover's Enchiridion," by Alex. Ireland.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON has been sojourning in Switzerland for his health. We are sorry to learn that he is threatened with consumption, and is in a very delicate condition. He has always been careless as to his physical welfare, and it is said his present trouble was brought on by a steerage voyage to this country undertaken for literary purposes.

ADMIRERS of Mrs. Henry Wood, says the London Truth, will hear with pleasure that, in addition to "Lady Grace," the novel that is now coming out in the Argosy, she has left behind her another complete story, that will appear next year in the same magazine; also two long "Johnny Ludlow" tales, and several short stories of this inimitable series.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); (Q. 4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Abbott, B: Vaughan. Decisions on the law of patents for inventions rendered by English courts since the beginning of the 17th century. V. 2, 1834–1838. Wash., C: R. Brodix, 1887. c. 12+554 p. O. shp., $6.50.

Across the Atlantic: a book for ocean travellers; consisting of a selection of scripture for both outward and homeward bound, interleaved with blank pages for notes and autographs. New ed. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., 1887. Sq. S. canvas, $1.

Æschylus. The seven against Thebes; with an introduction, commentary, and translation, by A. W. Verrall. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 38+179 p. O. cl., $2.

American (The) decisions, cont. the cases of general value and authority decided in the courts of the several states; comp. and annot. by A. C. Freeman. V. 85. San Francisco, Bancroft-Whitney Co., 1887. c. 870 p. O. shp., $5.

Appletons' European guide-book; new rev. ed. for 1887: a complete guide to the continent of Europe, Egypt, Algeria, and the Holy Land; with maps and vocabulary. N. Y., Appleton, 1887. 2 v. D. flex. mor., $5.

Balzac, Honoré de. The alkahest; or, the house of Claës. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1887. c. tr. 2+307 p. D. hf. mor., $1.50.

Balthazar Claës, belonging to a wealthy Flemish family, has a deep interest in chemistry, and gets farther and farther in speculation. He at last believes it possible to discover the primal substance, the true elementary matter out of which nature constructs everything. This search for the absolute becomes the master-passion of his life, and wife, home, children, and substance are all sacrificed to it. The story is a painful tragedy, worked out with more power even than Balzac habitually shows. Marguerite Claës, the daughter, is a noble creation. Her strength of character and sense of justice stem the tide of her father's rash acts for a time, and restore the home to a semblance of its former happiness.

Barrett, Frank. The great Hesper: a novel. N. Y., Appleton, 1887. 3–173 p. S. pap., 25 c.

A great uncut diamond found at Cape Town gives title to the book. It is owned in partnership by three men, the daughter of one, familiarly known as "the kid," having also some interest in it. It is brought to England, and whilst waiting to be cut is stolen; this is but the beginning of a long series of most exciting adventures, in which the readers' curiosity is cleverly kept on the alert as to who the real thief is. The author brings out a fresh idea in his hero, whom he makes a "nyctalops," that is one who is blind in the daytime, but gifted with extraordinary vision at night. The great possibilities here for the apparently supernatural may be imagined.

Bastin, Edson S. Elements of botany; including organography, vegetable histology, vegetable physiology, and vegetable taxonomy, and a glossary of the botanical terms. Chic., G. P. Engelhard & Co., 1887. c. 13+282 p. il. O. cl., $2.50.

Many years' experience in teaching the subject have convinced the writer that there exists a genuine need for some work on botany better adapted to the wants of our high schools, academies, and colleges of pharmacy and medicine than any in present use. It is this conviction which has brought forth this work, which is simple and easy in arrangement, gradually leading the student up to scientific facts through his observation of ordinary plants and flowers and his common-sense. A too liberal use of technical terms and language has been avoided, and an endeavor made to teach as much as possible by illustrations.

Beecher, H: Ward. Life of H: Ward Beecher. Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., 1887. c. 130 p. por. D. pap., 25 c.

"A comprehensive and accurate history of the great divine, from his birth to his grave, including selections from his sermons, writings, speeches, and letters, illustrating the multiform activity and genius of this great American editor, lecturer, preacher, novelist, and philosopher."

Benjamin, Fannie Nichols. The sunny side of shadow: reveries of a convalescent. Bost., Ticknor & Co., 1887. c. 188 p. S. cl., $1.

Twelve attractive little papers written in the lingering hours of a long convalescence. They aim to deal with life in a cheerful, hopeful way. They make excellent reading. The subjects are: The doctor; Patsy Pringle; Mrs. Runabout; The Harpies; Loving; Friendship; Suggestions of the sea; Thanksgiving; The materialist; Presentments; Christmas musing; From night to light.

Besant, Walter. To call her mine: a novel. N. Y., Harper, [1887.] 42 p. il. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., no. 583.) pap., 20 c.

The novel opens with a confession which David Leighan makes on a small island in the Pacific Ocean. The shadow of his crime haunts him and finally drives him back to England, where he finds fate has interfered and prevented him from committing murder; his only feeling then becomes a desire to revenge himself, and his means of doing so take up most of the story, although Mary's love affair and her lover's trouble to gain their uncle's consent gives name to the book.

Birrell, Augustine. Obiter dicta: second series. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1887. 5+291 p. S. cl., $1.

The subjects of these eleven papers are: Milton; Pope; Johnson; Burke; The muse of history; Charles Lamb; Emerson; The office of literature; Worn-out types; Cambridge and the poets; Book-buying.

Blackmore, R. D. Cradock Nowell. N. Y., J: W. Lovell Co., [1887.] 2 pts., 209; 210–418 p. S. (Lovell's lib., pocket ed., no. 955.) pap., ea. 20 c.

Bolles, Albert S. The law relating to banks and their depositors and to bank collections. N. Y., Homans Pub. Co., 1887. c. 28+522 p. O. cl., $4.50; shp., $5.

This important work is divided into three parts: The receiving and keeping of deposits; the paying of them; and collections. The author's aim is to present in language which can be easily and fully understood the law of banking contained in the reported decisions of the American and English courts; he has added many illustrations, drawn from cases that were before the courts, for the purpose of rendering the principles plain, if he should have happened to state them obscurely in the text, and also of showing some of the conditions under which they have been applied.

Braeme, Charlotte M., ["Bertha M. Clay," pseud.] From gloom to sunlight; or, from out the gloom. N. Y., G: Munro, [1887.] 328 p. D. (Seaside lib., pocket ed., no. 955.) pap., 20 c.

In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received.* Books not received* are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record.

Braeme, Charlotte M., ["Bertha M. Clay," pseud.] Hilary's folly; or, her marriage vow. N. Y., G: Munro, [1887.] 312 p. D. (Seaside lib., pocket ed., no. 953.) pap., 20 c.

Braeme, Charlotte M., ["Bertha M. Clay," pseud.] A woman's love-story. N. Y., J: W. Lovell Co., [1887.] 231 p. S. (Lovell's lib., no. 934.) pap., 20 c.

Carové, F. W. The story without an end; from the German by J. C. Pickard; [also,] The palace of vanity, from the French of Mme. de Girardin by Lucy Wheelock. Chic., The Interstate Pub. Co., [1887.] c. '86. 47 p. S. (Supplementary reading, Lakeside ser.) pap., 6 c.

Challen's engineers' log-book of daily runs for the year 188-. N. Y., Howard Challen, 150 Nassau St., 1887. Flex. cl., net, 75 c.; hf. roan, $1.

Corfield, W. H., M.D. The treatment and utilization of sewage; 3*d ed.*, rev. and enl. by the author and Louis C. Parker, M.D. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 31+511 p. O. cl., $4.50.

Cox, S:, D.D. Expositions; third series. N. Y., T: Whittaker, 1887. 20+453 p. O. cl., $2.25.

Cracker Joe. Bost., Robe ts Bros., 1887. c. 322 p. S. (No name [third] ser.) cl., $1.

Life in Florida after the war is the leading motive. "Cracker Joe" is the wealthiest man in his immediate neighborhood; born poor and ignorant, but with much native shrewdness and intelligence, he quickly develops business qualities, which rapidly make him a rich man. His wife is also a character, while the negro cook, "Aunt Pruny," is a most decided element both for good and bad in the story. A New York family, impoverished by speculation, who buy a house from "Cracker Joe" and settle down to a permanent residence, add a charming heroine to the women characters. The "cracker" and "negro" dialects are thoroughly well done.

Diggle, J: W. Godliness and manliness: a miscellany of brief papers touching the relation of religion to life. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 11+256 p. D. cl., $1.75.

Dodgson, C. L., ["Lewis Carroll," pseud.] The game of logic. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 96 p. D. cl., $1.

Erichsen, Hugo, M.D. The cremation of the dead, considered from an æsthetic, sanitary, religious, historical, medico-legal, and economical stand-point; with an introductory note by Sir T. Spencer Wells. Detroit, D. O. Haynes & Co., 1887. c. 10+264 p. il. D. cl., $2.

An urgent plea for the cremation of the dead, and also a history of the subject; with chapters on: The evils of burial; Cremation in times of war; The processes of modern cremation; The medico-legal aspect of incineration—the objections to cremation; Burial alive; The economy of cremating the dead; The present state of the cremation question.

Feathermann, A. Social history of the races of mankind: The Nigritians; the Melanesians. 2 v. Bost., Ticknor & Co., 1887. O. cl., ea. $6.

Frost, Percival. Hints for the solutions of problems in the 3d ed. of "Solid geometry." N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 115 p. O. cl., $3.

Graham, D: King James the First; an historical tragedy. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 206 p. D. cl., $2.

Greenough, H: Letters of Horatio Greenough to his brother, Henry Greenough; with biographical sketches and some contemporary correspondence; ed. by Frances Boott Greenough. Bost., Ticknor & Co., 1887. 3-250 p. por. D. cl., $1.25.

These letters of the well-known American sculptor, born in 1805, are both interesting and valuable. They not only reveal parts of the writer's character hitherto unknown outside of his intimate friends—his family affection, patriotism, and freedom from artistic jealousies—but offer most graphic descriptions of art and society in Europe and America, some fifty or more years ago, well worth preserving.

Griesinger, Theodor. Leben u. treiben in New York: humoristische u. ernste skizzen. 5. aufl. N. Y., S. Zickel, 1887. 108 p. O. pap., 25 c.

Lockyer, J. Norman. The chemistry of the sun. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 19+457 p. O. cl., $4.50.

Lüders, C: H:, and Smith, S. Decatur. Hallo, my fancy. Phil., D: McKay, 1887. c. 96 p. S. cl., 75 c.

A collection of nearly one hundred pieces of society verses, written in an exuberant, sometimes frivolous style, but always refined. The authors are gentlemen well known in Philadelphia society and many of the verses included in this volume will be recognized by readers of Life, Puck, and other humorous journals. The title is taken from a poem of two centuries ago by William Cleland:

"Hallo! my fancie, whither wilt thou go?"

McClellan, Carswell. The personal memoirs and military history of U. S. Grant vs. the record of the army of the Potomac. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1887. Maps, O. cl., $1.75.

Mahaffy, J. P. Rambles and studies in Greece. 3d ed., rev. and enl. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 9+468 p. D. cl., $3.

Marston, J: Works; ed. by A. H. Bullen. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1887. 3 v. O. cl., $9; Same, Large-pap. ed., net, $12.

Meredith, G: The shaving of Shagpat: an Arabian entertainment; [also,] Farina. New ed. Bost., Robert Bros., 1887. 6+412 p. D. cl., $2.

"The shaving of Shagpat" is said to be the author's first work of fiction. Shagpat is a rich clothier in Persia, who has never been shaved. The wit, humor, and originality of Meredith and his wonderful command of language are shown to great advantage in this "Arabian entertainment." The other story, "Farina," is located on the Rhine in mediæval times, and the author is just as successful in producing the local coloring of Germany. The plot of both stories is too intricate to be detailed in a short notice.

Miner, Joel A. Miner's complete office docket for lawyers, with diary annexed. Imp. ed. Ann Arbor, Joel A. Miner, [1887.] c. Q. hf. mor., 200 cases, $3.

Montauban, G. de. The cruise of a woman-hater. Bost., Ticknor & Co., 1887. c. 5-280 p. S. (Ticknor's paper ser. of choice reading, no. 3.) pap., 50 c.

Bernard Jerves, the "woman-hater," is a rich, idle young man, without ambition, a thorough gourmet, a first-class whist-player, etc. He goes for pastime in a sailing-vessel from New York to China, and on board meets his fate in the shape of a widowed friend of the captain's wife. There is but little plot, but the conversations about men, women, and things are spirited and often witty. The descriptive portions of the book give good pictures of the ocean voyage, and of China, Africa, and San Francisco.

Morley, J: On the study of literature: the annual address to the students of the London Soc. for the Extension of University Teaching, delivered at the Mansion House. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. D. cl., 50 c.; popular ed., pap., 5 c.

Mormon metropolis (The): an illustrated guide to Salt Lake City and its environs; containing illustrations and descriptions of principal places of interest to tourists; also information and historical data with regard to Utah and its people. Salt Lake City, Utah, J. H. Parry & Co., 1887. c. 48 p. il. and map, D. pap., 25 c.

Mosby, J: S. Mosby's war reminiscences; and Stuart's cavalry campaigns. Bost., G: A. Jones & Co., 1887. c. 256 p. por. S. cl., $1.50.

These reminiscences are from the well-known "Captain" or "Colonel" Mosby, of guerilla fame in the Southern Confederacy. He tells an unadorned tale of his many adventures, in a rather egotistical way, which perhaps could scarcely be avoided; also gives details of some of Stuart's cavalry raids. An interesting book to either the Northern or Southern sympathizer.

Norgate, Kate. England under the Angevin kings. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 2 v., 10+506; 521 p. O. cl., $9.

Pepys, S: Diary and correspondence of Samuel Pepys, F.R.S., secretary of the admiralty in the reign of Charles II. and James II.; translated by Mynors Bright. New cheaper students' ed. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1887. 5 v. D. cl., $5.

Pepys, S: Diary and correspondence of Samuel Pepys, F.R.S., secretary of the admiralty in the reign of Charles II. and James II.; the diary deciphered by the Rev. J. Smith from the original shorthand ms.; life and notes by Richard, Lord Braybrooke. Phil., D: McKay, [N. Y., G: Routledge & Sons,] 1887. 4 v., 35+427; 1+484; 1+481; 2+470 p. por. O. cl., $8.

A very excellent edition of this standard work, which, better than any other extant, gives us a valuable insight into the every-day life of the times of the later Stuarts (1660-1669). It is an exact reprint of the Bickers (London) edition, well printed on fine tinted paper from large open-faced type, double-leaded. Contains four fine steel portraits and is well bound in plain cloth.

Political prohibitionist (The) for 1887: handbook for the aggressive temperance people of the United States. N. Y., Funk & Wagnalls, 1887. c. 2-116 p. D. pap., 35 c.

Facts and figures concerning prohibition in the various states; points from state platforms as to their standing on this measure; attitude of the Republican party on temperance; attitude of the Democratic party on temperance; short history of the national Prohibition party; election statistics, etc.

Porter, W: H:, M.D. A practical treatise on renal diseases. N. Y., W: Wood & Co., 1887. 362 p. il. O. cl., $3.

Primary Fridays, no. 3; original and selected recitations for the little ones. Chic., The Interstate Pub. Co., [1887.] c. 80 p. D. pap., 25 c.

Rogers, Ja. E. Thorold. The first nine years of the Bank of England: an inquiry into a weekly record of the price of bank stock from August 17, 1694, to September 17, 1703. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 31+183 p. O. cl., $2.

Row, C. A. Future retribution viewed in the light of reason and revelation. N. Y., T: Whittaker, 1887. 10+429 p. O. cl., $2.50.

Sandys, J: Edwin. An Easter vacation in Greece; with lists of books on Greek travel and topography, and time-tables of Greek railways and steamers. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 16+175 p. map and plan, D. cl., $1.25.

Sappho: memoir, text, selected renderings, and a literal translation by H: Thornton Wharton. 2d ed. Chic., A. C. McClurg & Co., 1887. 1+213 p. por. D. bds., $1.75.

A translation of the 170 fragments of Greek verse left by Sappho into literal English prose; with translations of other poems called forth by Sappho's verse. There is a good memoir and bibliography. This second edition has been improved typographically, and translations added of some new fragments of Sappho's found recently.

por. D. cl., $1.25.
These letters of the well-known American sculptor,

Lean, Mrs. Francis, [formerly Florence Marryat.] The heart of Jane Warner. N. Y., J:

Scratchley, Sir P: Australian defences and New Guinea; comp. from the papers of the late Major-General Sir Peter Scratchley, R.E., K.C.M.G., by C. Kinlock Cooke, with an introductory memoir. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 12+413 p. O. cl., $4.

Stephen, Leslie, ed. Dictionary of national biography. Vs. 9 and 10. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 6+460; 6+456 p. O. cl., ea., $3.25.

Sturgis, Julian. Dick's wandering: a novel. [New issue.] N. Y., Appleton, 1887. 1+397 p. S. pap., 50 c.

United States. Supreme Court. Reports. V. 120, Oct. term, 1886. J. C. Bancroft Davis, rep. N. Y. and Alb., Banks & Bros., 1887. c. 29+844 p. O. shp., net, $2.

Vacation journal (The): a diary of outings from May until November; with hints and information for tourists. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1887.] c. 261 p. nar. D. canvas cl., $1.25; leath., $2.

Contains an almanac, calendar of the moon's phases, table of morning and evening stars, signal-service flags with explanations, and rates of postage. There is a full-page diary for six months, each page with a felicitous poetical quotation appropriate to each season; a flora of the Eastern and Middle States, rules of lawn-tennis, and blank pages for records, for autographs, for names and addresses, and miscellaneous memoranda.

Warden, F. At the world's mercy. N. Y., J: W. Lovell Co., [1887.] 123 p. S. (Lovell's lib., no. 980.) pap., 10 c.

Week (A) away from time. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1887. c. 4+349 p. D. cl., $1.25.

A party of pleasant people gathered together in Margaret Temple's pretty home at Fair Harbor, a "singularly pretty and attractive bit of the very tip end of the heel of Cape Cod," serve as an excuse for relating a number of interesting stories, and reading some clever essays and verses. The characters are well introduced and well described, but there is very little story.

White, Ja. C., M.D. Dermatitis venerata: an account of the action of external irritants upon the skin. Bost., Cupples & Hurd, 1887. 216 p. O. cl., $2.50.

White, Rev. Gilbert. The natural history of Selborne. In 2 pts., pt. 2. N. Y., Cassell & Co., [1887.] 192 p. S. (Cassell's national lib., no. 70.) pap., 10 c.

Wilmer, R: H., Bsp. The recent past from a Southern stand-point: reminiscences of a grandfather. N. Y., T: Whittaker, 1887. 281 p. O. cl., $2.

Winslow, Catherine Mary Reynolds. Yesterdays with actors. Bost., Cupples & Hurd, 1887. 208 p. O. cl., $2.

Wilson, H: R. The Russian refugee: a tale of the Blue Ridge. N. Y., T: R. Knox & Co., 1887. c. 8+610 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A long story with a mystery which centres in an old Russian refugee who lives in a cave or cavern in the Blue Ridge Mountains. The daughter of an American, a Miss Hastings, falls down a steep declivity whilst gathering ferns, and is found by the Russian and taken to his hiding-place. The reader is thus introduced to its inmates, and all its interesting surroundings. The Hastings and the Russian and his family find their lives connected from henceforth, many strange and thrilling events issuing. Nihilism and theosophy are in turn the subject of discussion and the motive of the story.

Yonge, Charlotte. Cameos from English history; forty years of Stewart rule, 1603–1643; 6th ser. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1887. 8+400 p. D. cl., $1.25.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JUNE 4, 1887.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries" thankfully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

THE eighth annual meeting of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association was held on the evening of June 1, at the rooms of Geo. A. Leavitt & Co. Notwithstanding the rainy weather, nearly fifty members were on hand. At about half past eight the President, Mr. Dillingham, called the meeting to order. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Then the Secretary read his report as follows:

Mr. President and Members of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association of the U. S.:

It is with great pleasure that the Board of Trustees present to you their annual report, and give an account of their trust. Success has crowned their efforts during the past year, and our Association seems on a firmer basis than ever before. We have nearly reached the limit of membership, and the age of our members is below the average. The history of the Association in detail, for the past year, as far as figures can tell the story, is as follows:

Our net gain in membership for the year 1885 and 1886 was only four. This year our net gain is seventy. It is estimated that fourteen deaths a year to the thousand is the average loss of most insurance companies. Our rate for twelve months has been only seven; a fact which speaks well for our examining physician. It does not seem as if the great majority of the members of this Association appreciated fully the good it is doing, or how greatly it benefits the families of our deceased associates. Often the Treasurer of the Association is called upon to advance the money necessary to defray the funeral expenses of deceased members. Once at least during the past year has the Association been obliged, not only to guarantee the undertaker against loss, but also the friends who furnished the bare necessaries of life to the wife and children of the departed. The last benefit paid was $898, representing nearly a year's salary to the great majority of our members, and this was obtained at an outlay of less than $20. Can any one question the value of our Association to the clerks of the book and stationery trade? You will notice our membership has grown to 920, and our limit is 1000. If you have any friends whose real interest you have at heart, will you not be doing them a lasting favor by recommending them to join this Association and pushing them until they do? Think of the low cost of membership! of the great returns! The old adage:

"There is no friend so true
As a dollar or two,"

holds good to-day, and will hold good for years to come. Returns for labor grow smaller each year, and it is harder every month to lay by the necessary provision for a rainy day. The rich have no need of our Association, but the clerk, depending on his weekly salary, the day laborer in our mills and manufactories; in fact, all connected with our trade, dependent on their own exertions for success in life, will find a membership in this Association one of the best of investments even when in health, for it anticipates being called upon for contributions, while, if death should come before a competency is secured, the knowledge that our members stand between his beloved ones and actual want, allows him to pass to the Better Land as he would lie down to pleasant dreams. Shall we not then, each and every one of us, urge all our trade friends to join the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association? Sooner or later Death comes to all. Shall we let our friends meet him with empty pockets? The answer rests with you.

The report was approved. The President in commending this report urged on the members the necessity of making a personal effort to attain the maximum of 1000. This is especially important, as it seems to be the feeling of the Association, as it stands, that no changes are desirable until that point is reached.

The meeting then proceeded to elect five Trustees to serve for three years in place of Messrs. Lennon, Ryan, Morris, Cunningham, and McCarthy. There were cast thirty-six votes giving a majority to the old Board, which therefore remains in office.

Resolutions were then passed complimenting the President, Mr. C. T. Dillingham, for his zeal and disinterested work in carrying forward the interests of the Association; praising the Secretary for the efficient and able manner in which he has looked after the affairs of the Association, and for the masterly and handsome style in which the minutes of its meetings are noted; and the usual resolutions thanking Messrs. Leavitt & Co. and Cassell & Co. for the use of their offices, and the trade journals for courtesies extended.

Mr. Webster, of Clark & Maynard, then offered the following:

The law committee and two-thirds of the members of the Association concurring, each member having been notified and given ample opportunity to vote by postal card, that the Constitution of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association be changed as follows:

ART. III. (of Dues), Sec. 2, shall be changed to read:

"Upon the death of a member every other member shall pay into the treasury the sum of one dollar and ten cents ($1.10); but there shall be at least eight assessments of $1.10 each in every year, whether there be eight deaths during that year or a less number. The excess of money received from the eight assessments above that required to pay the death losses of that year shall be passed to the Contingent Fund. Should there be more than eight deaths in one year, the Board of Trustees may omit any or all assessments after the sixth, if, in their judgment, the amount in the Contingent Fund warrants such omission."

ART. V. (of Death Payments). The first sentence of Art. IV., Sec. 1, shall be changed to read:

"Upon the death of a member there shall be due to such person or persons as shall have been properly designated by the deceased member a sum equal to one dollar multiplied by the number of members who paid the last previous assessment; but there shall be paid to such designated person or persons the sum of one thousand dollars, provided always that there is money enough in the Contingent Fund at the time of said death, which, together with the last previous assessment, will make up that amount."

ART. IV. of the Contingent Fund shall be changed to read:

"Initiation fees, fines from the delinquent officers, the extra ten cents paid at initiation and with each assessment, and all moneys collected by reason of assessments other than death assessments, shall form the Contingent Fund of the Association, from which its expenses shall be paid, and from which payments shall be made in accordence with Article IV., Sec. 1.

After a brief discussion, in which the feeling pervaded that it was not desirable to make any changes at present, the resolution was referred to the Committee on Laws.

Ex-Secretary W. D. Myers then called the attention of the meeting to the fact that what was needed to increase and strengthen the membership of the Association, and to enlarge its usefulness, was to deepen the interest of the trade in its work. In his opinion one step towards this would be to form a Booksellers' and Stationers' Club, which might establish a headquarters where the members and friends of the Association might meet socially, discuss its interests, and in many ways carry forward the work which he thought was now passive for the want of such an agency. To start such a project he asked leave to introduce the following:

Resolved, That a committee of fifteen, composed of the Board of Trustees of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association, shall devise ways and means to establish a Booksellers' and Stationers' Club in New York, with power to solicit subscriptions therefor; the said club to be under the management of the Board, and its rooms to be occupied by the Association.

After considerable talk, passing of the resolution, reconsidering the motion, and amending it, the motion to entertain the resolution when it was finally put to vote was lost. We are under the impression that had the subject been put before the Association in practical form—that is, had the advantages to the members been made clear, and statistics as to the practicability of the idea been produced—the resolution would have fared better.

A CURIOUS LITERARY COMBINATION.

THE DETECTIVE AND THE NOVELIST.

SUCH a combination of authors as Messrs. Cassell & Company have just succeeded in making will prove an epoch in the literary world. They have got together a man with his brain teeming with stories of intrigue and adventure in which he has played an active part, and a famous novelist. The man of adventure lays his stories and his diaries before the man of letters, and we are given a book, which, for thrilling incident and literary style, has seldom, if ever, been equalled. This unique combination consists of Inspector Thomas Byrnes, Chief of the Detective Bureau of New York, and Julian Hawthorne, one of the most popular novelists of the day. Dumas, Dickens, or Charles Reade would have given worlds for such material as Inspector Byrnes has furnished Mr. Hawthorne. There will be a series of books from the pens of these two gentlemen, the first, called "A Tragic Mystery," being nearly ready for publication. It is the story of one of the famous crimes committed in New York, only the external features of which have hitherto been known to the public. It describes a mysterious murder which startled New York several years ago, narrates the efforts made by the police to discover the criminal, the circumstances by which for a long time they were baffled and misled, and the final dramatic and tragic conclusion. The style is said to be rapid and direct, and point after point is made with telling power.

OBITUARY.

MAJOR BEN: PERLEY POORE, the well-known Washington correspondent, died in that city on the 29th of May. Major Poore was born in 1820 at Newburyport, Mass., and went to Washington when a youth. Then he went abroad as attaché to the Belgian legation, and while abroad wrote a great many letters for the Boston Atlas about Europe and the East. On his return he was for a time the editor of a paper at Atlanta, Ga., and in 1854 became the correspondent of the Boston Journal, retaining that employment for thirty years and making his name familiar throughout the East as the Journal's representative. For several years he had been the clerk of the Senate Committee on Printing Records, had edited the Congressional Record, prepared a volume of United States publications since the establishment of the Government, published his recollections, which have been extensively quoted, and written entertaining letters to several newspapers in different parts of the country. Last year he published in two large octavo volumes his Reminiscences.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

WHO publishes the Biographical Magazine, a monthly that offers for sale biographical sketches of prominent people? C. H. E.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

D. C. HEATH & Co. have been made the American agents for the London Journal of Education, a monthly record and review.

IN next week's number of Harper's Weekly will appear the first instalment of a serial story written and illustrated by Howard Pyle, entitled "The Rose of Paradise."

THE Publishers' Bulletin is the title of a new monthly journal issued by Wm. J. Carlton, 88 Centre St., N. Y. It will devote itself principally to the discussion of matters interesting to newspaper men, printers, and trades allied to these. The first number is full of good reading. An article is devoted to Robert W. Shoppell, with which is given a portrait.

C. W. MOULTON & Co., Buffalo, announce a new quarterly magazine to be entitled The Modern Muse. The magazine will be devoted exclusively to poetry and the study of poetry. The whole field of current and classical English poetry will be covered. Authors will be represented by their best and most famous poems, and characteristic extracts from their published works. A concise, but complete biography, with critical and explanatory notes, will accompany, each article. The notes will be furnished by competent writers, and will be new and authoritative. Living poets as well as the writers of the past will be discussed in every number. Space will be allotted in each number for the publication of those world-wide poems that have become as familiar as household words, to which will be added historical notes giving the dates of first appearance, the circumstances under which they were written, and other interesting details. With the second issue will be published a bibliographical list of all the verse, English and American, issued in book-form during 1887, with name of publisher, size, style, number of pages, price, and explanatory notes. Other lists will be announced hereafter. The first number will be issued January 15, 1888.

WHAT is described as "a handbook or repertory" of Balzac's "Comédie Humaine" has just been published in Paris by Calmann-Levy, the authors being MM. Cerfberr and Christophe. It contains about 600 pages of details concerning Balzac's characters, and has already been found to be "a boon to all Balzaciens who have been hitherto puzzled as to the exact identity of many of the myriad heroes and heroines of this favorite author." The work has a preface by Paul Bourget, the novelist.
